

Mercy

Kristene Mueller

What shall I do with you, My love
What shall I do with you
For your loyalty to Me is like the morning clouds
Like the dew which goes away so early
What shall I do with you, My love

You keep bringing Me sacrifices to ease your mind
But it's your heart that I want
Hasn't it been a long road, disappointment
Chasing after lovers that just throw you away
Are you done fighting now, all the love that takes delight in you
Shame was never meant to be your portion

Though your sins are red as scarlet, I will wash them white in My mercy
Though your sins are red as scarlet, I will wash them white in My mercy
